

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Scott Nelson, the President of Security & Risk Management Group, LLC (SRMG), to Speak at the Conference Board's 2003 Business Continuity, Security, and Crisis Management Seminars

San Diego, CA, July 1, 2003 - Scott Nelson, the president of SRMG, will deliver interactive, hands-on sessions covering risk analysis, assessment, and scenario planning and the physical dimension of business continuity during the Conference Board's 2003 Business Continuity, Security, and Crisis Management Seminars August 28 – 29 at the Coronado Island Marriott Resort. During these sessions, he will discuss topics such as strategies to anticipate, measure, and control risk; scenario planning, forecast analysis, and vulnerability assessment; protection of corporate facilities/infrastructure and the supply/distribution chain against intrusion, surveillance, and other business operation interference; security equipment and procedures; and bioterrorism, anthrax, and other physical threats.

The Conference Board is the world's leading business membership organization, with members in over 3,300 enterprises in 63 countries worldwide. It creates and disseminates knowledge about management and the marketplace to help businesses strengthen their performance and better serve society.

For more information about the Conference Board, go to <http://www.conference-board.org/>.

*****

In today's ever-changing, increasingly heightened security environment, your business assets and personal interests need protection as never before. SRMG, a consulting company specializing in independent global security and risk management services for corporations and individuals, can work with you to develop a customized solution that will successfully secure both your business and personal environments.

Visit our Web site at <http://www.srmg-link.com> to learn how SRMG can create a more secure environment for you, increasing your productivity, enhancing the shareholder value of your corporations, and improving the quality of both your business and family life through our proven secur-link process.