

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Scott Nelson, the President of Security & Risk Management Group, LLC (SRMG), Records Public Service Radio Segments

Los Angeles, CA, February 11, 2008 – Scott Nelson, the president of SRMG, recently recorded two thirty-minute public service radio segments focusing on terrorism and protecting your family on the Internet with popular actor, on-air personality, and writer P.J. Ochlan. Several Los Angeles stations – including KKGQ “Go Country” 105.1 FM (<http://www.gocountry105.com/>), KGIL “LA’s News/Talk” 1260/540 AM (<http://www.1260.am/>), and KKJZ “K-Jazz” 88.1 FM (<http://www.jazzandblues.org/index.aspx>) – will broadcast the segments from February 17 to March 19, 2008.

In today's ever-changing, increasingly heightened security environment, your business assets and personal interests need protection as never before. SRMG, a consulting company specializing in independent global security and risk management services for corporations and individuals, can work with you to develop a customized solution that will successfully secure both your business and personal environments.

Visit our Web site at <http://www.srmg-link.com> to learn how SRMG can create a more secure environment for you, increasing your productivity, enhancing the shareholder value of your corporations, and improving the quality of both your business and family life through our proven secur-link process.